

Distribution of Water Use in Washington, 1995*

*Total average water use is 8,738,700 gallons per day. Water use includes ground and surface water from public sources and self-supply. This chart does not include water used to produce hydroelectric as opposed to thermoelectric power (e.g., nuclear, coal fired, gas turbine generated power).

SOURCE: Data is from the U.S. Geological Survey, 1995.